

Scoutmaster Marty's What to Bring on a Weekend Outing

- Sleeping Bag and Pad
- 1 pair of Long pants and one pair of Shorts (except in Winter)
- 2 extra pair of socks (plus what they wear)
- 1 change of underwear (they won't be changing them anyway!)
- Pajamas of some kind (they can't sleep in underwear)
- Warm clothes but not the whole closet.
- Long sleeve shirt
- Sweat shirt
- Wind breaker or rain shell of some kind. They don't need a parka)
- Hiking boots or sturdy shoes
- Pocket knife (If they have their Totin Chip)
- Plate/bowl/spoon/fork
- Cup or mug (plastic)
- Toiletries (tooth brush etc)
- Wash Cloth, soap and light towel
- Scout handbook
- Flashlights
- Notebook and pencil
- Cards or small games

NO ELECTRONICS and NO CELL PHONES

NO FOOD aside from what is purchased for the patrols.

All this should fit into one backpack or duffle bag. Try to avoid the big Tupperware type containers or suit cases. We just don't have the room to bring those.

All the clothing should go into water proof bags (trash bags work) and then into the duffle or pack

Just be assured though that it is only for two nights and if they forget something they will be fine. We will work it out.

A folding camp chair is always handy and highly coveted.

Also, remember that we ALWAYS travel in Class A's.
